Lynchburg Social.

LYNCHBURG, VA., June 22.—The chief events of social interest in Lynchburg this week were two weddings uniting popular young people.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday night at the home of the bride's father, Mr. M. M. Marsh, near College Park, when his daughter, Miss Janette Washington Marsh, became the bride of Mr. William E. Smith, who is a car inspector in the employ of the Southern Railway. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bernard P. Mill, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church. A number of friends and relatives witnessed the nuptials.

The maid of honor was Miss Mamie Witt, of Roanoke, who was attired in white chiffon made over white and carried white carnations. The best man was Mr. Frank Scott. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a trip to Richmond and the Jamestown Exposition.

A large assembly was present Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Rivermont Avenue Methodist Church to witness the brilliant marriage of Miss Isabel Temple Shackford, the talented daughter of Rev. J. W. Shackford, president of the Lynchburg Chapter of the Methodist Church, to Professor Gustavus Walker Dyer, an instructor at the Vanderbilt University. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, a former pastor of the church, her husband having been a former pastor of the same church.

Miss Mary K. Shackford, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Mrs. John Walter Shackford, matron of honor. Mr. Summerfield B. Lambeth, of Bedford City, was the best man.

The other attendants were Miss Mary Cheatwood, of this city, and Mr. William A. Lambeth, of Greensboro, N. C.; Miss Joe McIlwaine, of Petersburg; and Mr. Theodore Shackford, of this city.

The new Beulah Methodist Church, near Stapleton, Amherst county, will be dedicated on Sunday, July 14th, and the members of the congregation are making arrangements for an all-day meeting.

The new building is one of the neatest country churches in that section.
